
TEN MILLIONAIRES AT SEA ON THE SAME BOAT

American Magnates on Board the Deutschland.

ARRIVED HOME FROM EUROPE

MORGAN AND VANDERBILT IN THE GROUP.

What They Have Done Abroad and the Things They Talked About on the Voyage.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 4.—Today 10 millionaires arrived on the Deutschland from Europe. They landed from Southampton Friday. They are J. Pierpont Morgan, W. K. Vanderbilt, Clement A. Griscom, C. A. Spaulding, William L. Elkins, P. A. Widener, Harry Payne Whitney, Pierre Lorillard, Timothy L. Woodruff, John T. Waterbury, and the Duke of Devonshire. The Deutschland is never metaphorically greater than it was on this trip.

Whether the 10 returning voyagers are musical is not known, except to their immediate friends. But if they are they doubt doubt the captain's bridge and sailing themselves thereon, they warbled to the crew.

If they didn't buy the bridge they probably gathered and sang, and one of them which one nobody will ever know, for these men don't talk, thumped a man, while the others, paraphrasing the "Adieu, my native land, adieu fades o'er the waters blue," of "Child Harold," they sang:

Adieu, old Britain, France, adieu
Fades o'er the waters blue
We've seen your shores, we've seen your
Adieu, old lands—good-bye!

The more probable thing, however, is that these 10 millionaires, and one of them the Marine Novelist Russell, put it before these 10 millionaires, representing in the aggregate about 70 millions of good American dollars, assembled on the Deutschland, and they, for the cable says they formed a syndicate on the sea—quite natural—and chartered the entire deck for Sunday, and having gathered they sat down to tell each other what they had done.

Doublets Mr. Morgan led off. Doubtless, also, he first related how he had examined the crown of the crown, or the lot of crowns, and decided not to make an offer for the same as they were not convertible.

Then each gave his experience, no doubt on such questions as each had investigated with a view of enhancing the American credit abroad. There probably has never been on land, certainly never on the rolling deep, a weightier conference on international trade than that which took place in the cabin on the promenade deck of the Deutschland.

The affairs of finance on two continents may well stand still while the Deutschland is at sea. When the smoke from the funnels of the Deutschland was sighted from Fire Island the metropolis of America stood uptight.

SUMMER GARDENS

Manager McNeary has added several electric fans to the attractions at Uhlir's Cave and they are helping to make his patrons comfortable during the hot weather.

"Patience" is drawing well, despite the fact that the play is somewhat heavy to the present generation.

Maude Lillian Berri doesn't dress the title part prettily, but she does it with a will, and with her usual excellence. The burlesque of "Moulin" is one of the comic opera classics. John Allison is an indifferent clown, while Clinton Elder has little opportunity as the title character. The play is interpreted by Gertrude Lodge and Fanny de Costa plays Lady Arden.

"The Girl of the Year" is the Cave's bill next week.

Miss Olive Vail is still singing the part of Phoebe in the Delmar Garden production of "Billie" and "The Girl of the Year."

Miss Vail improves with each performance and should, with the proper coaching, become a real prima donna some day. The character of Phoebe is a good one, and Miss Vail is bright and amusing. Agnes Paul is poorly cast. Next week "Said Heavens" will be the Delmar's bill.

Grace Van Studdiford is in her second week at Forest Park Highlands and her popularity with Col. Hopkins' patrons is yet in its ascendency. The play is "The Last of the Mohicans."

Not Willie and the Quaker City Quartet share the honors of the bill with her. Next week the bill will be "The Girl of the Year" and "The Last of the Mohicans."

The bill for next week will include LeFebvre's Saxophone Quartet and McCarty's dog and monkey circus.

The features of the bill at Marston's Park this week are Thomson and Green, musicians; Adams and Gaffney, singers of illustrated songs; and Emily Glover, actress. Next week, Allen and Delmar, in a comedy sketch, and Armstrong and Porter, musicians, will head the bill. The Monocacy Comedy Company will appear in "Venetian Evening."

Maurice Freeman and his company are reviving "Fanchon" at the Park Theatre this week with Miss Winston in the title role. Next week "East Lynne" will be presented.

"Home and Juliet" is being presented by the Hanley-Ravold Company at Koerner's Garden.

Edward S. Olenchov will give a testimonial performance at the Fourteenth Street Theatre Friday night.

Drifted Apart and "David Garrick" will be presented with Mr. Olenchov in leading parts. Miss Willette Kershaw will play the leading female part and the support will be the following pupils of the Lyceum: Misses Marie Frein and Emily Woods and Messrs. Andy Baker, Harry H. Koots, Ernest A. Blanks, Israel Frodin, Carl and Edwin H. Wilson.

Carl Victor, the South St. Louis strong man, is the principal attraction at the Park Theatre. Other entertainers are Frank Cotton and Malvin Woods. The stock company will present "Flirtation" next week.

City Statesman's Mahap—Andrew

TEN MILLIONAIRES AT SEA ON THE SAME BOAT

BOOKS FOR CHILDREN

INFLUENCE OF THE LIBRARY IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

ADDRESS BY F. M. CRUNDEN

Feature of the Opening of American Library Association Convention at Waukesha, Wis.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WAUKESHA, Wis., July 4.—The American Library Association convention opened here last evening with an attendance of probably 500 members.

Among the prominent library workers are: Melvil Dewey, director of New York State Library; W. L. Fletcher, librarian, University of Chicago; George Lee, New York City; R. G. Thwaites, librarian, Boston Public Library; F. M. Crunden, St. Louis; and J. H. Thompson, Philadelphia.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

BOOKS FOR CHILDREN

INFLUENCE OF THE LIBRARY IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

ADDRESS BY F. M. CRUNDEN

Feature of the Opening of American Library Association Convention at Waukesha, Wis.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WAUKESHA, Wis., July 4.—The American Library Association convention opened here last evening with an attendance of probably 500 members.

Among the prominent library workers are: Melvil Dewey, director of New York State Library; W. L. Fletcher, librarian, University of Chicago; George Lee, New York City; R. G. Thwaites, librarian, Boston Public Library; F. M. Crunden, St. Louis; and J. H. Thompson, Philadelphia.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

BOOKS FOR CHILDREN

INFLUENCE OF THE LIBRARY IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

ADDRESS BY F. M. CRUNDEN

Feature of the Opening of American Library Association Convention at Waukesha, Wis.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WAUKESHA, Wis., July 4.—The American Library Association convention opened here last evening with an attendance of probably 500 members.

Among the prominent library workers are: Melvil Dewey, director of New York State Library; W. L. Fletcher, librarian, University of Chicago; George Lee, New York City; R. G. Thwaites, librarian, Boston Public Library; F. M. Crunden, St. Louis; and J. H. Thompson, Philadelphia.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Dr. Crunden, who is the president of the association, is a member of the American Library Association, and is a member of the American Library Association.

Sheets and Pillow Cases.

Our 260 Sheets and Pillow Cases are made from the same high grade muslins as Utica Mills, and are marked fully 25 per cent below prevailing values.

42x96, 12 1/2 ea. 42x38 1/2, 14c ea.
45x96, 14c ea. 54x38 1/2, 20c ea.
45x96 1/2 London Linen Finish, 17c ea.

63x99, 53c each 81x99, 58c each
72x99, 53c each 81x99, 58c each

Our London Linen Finish Sheets are the best for wear in the market. They are heavy and strong and have the appearance of linen and are easy to launder.

72x99, for single beds, 65c each
81x99, for three-quarter bed, 73c each
90x99, for double beds, 80c each
90x108, extra size, 85c each

50x36, Fine Cotton, 10c each
42x36, Cotton, Hemstitched 12 1/2c ea.
45x36, Atlantic Mills Cotton 12 1/2c ea.
45x36, Best Cotton, Hemstitched, 15c each

50x38 1/2, made of Fine Cotton, extra large size, 20c each

72x99, regular price 60c, sale price 46c
81x99, regular price 65c, sale price 50c
90x99, regular price 70c, sale price 55c
81x99, regular price 75c, sale price 60c
90x99, regular price 80c, sale price 65c
90x99, regular price 85c, sale price 70c

150 dozen Dentists' and Barbers' Towels, size 16x22; regularly worth $1.25, $1.00 per dozen.

150 dozen Dentists' and Barbers' Towels, size 16x22; regularly worth $1.50, $1.20 per dozen.

60 dozen Hemmed Huck Towels, size 20x40; regular retail price $2.25, $1.75 per dozen.

100 dozen All-Linen Hemmed Huck Towels, size 17x33; regular price $2.25, $1.75 per dozen.

90 dozen All-Linen Extra Heavy Hemmed Huck Towels, size 20x40; regularly $2.75, $2.25 per dozen.

90 dozen All-Linen Extra Heavy Hemmed Huck Towels, size 21x43; regularly $4.00, $3.00 per dozen.

50 dozen All-Linen Heavy Huck Towels, size 20x40; regularly $3.75, $3.00 per dozen.

85 dozen All-Linen Extra Fine Huck Towels, size 20x40; usual retail price $4.50, $3.50 per dozen.

40 dozen All-Linen Extra Heavy Huck Towels, size 21x43; regularly $4.50, $3.50 per dozen.

90 dozen fine Bird's-Eye Towels, size 21x42; regular retail price $7.50, $6.00 per dozen.

84 dozen All-Linen Huck Towels, size 18x33; regularly worth $2.25, $1.85 per dozen.

50 dozen All-Linen Huck Towels, size 20x40; regularly $3.25, $2.75 per dozen.

110 dozen All-Linen Huck Towels, size 21x40; regularly $4.00, $3.00 per dozen.

74 dozen Extra Heavy Huck Towels, size 22x40; regularly $4.50, $3.50 per dozen.

90 dozen fine Initial Huck Towels, size 20x40; regularly worth $4.50, $3.50 per dozen.

25 dozen fine Bird's-Eye Towels, size 21x42; regular retail price $7.50, $6.00 per dozen.

84 dozen All-Linen Huck Towels, size 18x33; regularly worth $2.25, $1.85 per dozen.

50 dozen All-Linen Huck Towels, size 20x40; regularly $3.25, $2.75 per dozen.

110 dozen All-Linen Huck Towels, size 21x40; regularly $4.00, $3.00 per dozen.

74 dozen Extra Heavy Huck Towels, size 22x40; regularly $4.50, $3.50 per dozen.

Damask Towels—60 dozen All-Linen Knotted Fringe Damask Towels; usual retail price 15c, 12 1/2c each.

60 dozen Fringed Turkish Towels, large size; regularly $2.00, $1.50 per dozen.

95 dozen Hemmed Turkish Towels, extra large size; worth in a regular way $3.00, $2.40 per dozen.

40 dozen extra fine and large size Fringed Turkish Towels; worth $4.00, $3.00 per dozen.

Bleached Turkish, 36 dozen fine Turkish Towels; worth $2.00, $1.75 per dozen.

50 dozen Extra Fine Hemmed Turkish Towels; worth in a regular way $3.00, $2.25 per dozen.

25 dozen Fine Hemmed Turkish Towels; $4.00 value, $3.00 per dozen.

Glass Toweling. 100 pieces 18-inch Checked Glass Toweling; regularly worth 10 1-3c, 8 1-3c per yard.

35 pieces 20-inch Extra Heavy Glass Toweling in assorted checks; worth 12 1/2c, 10c per yard.

Crash Toweling. 90 pieces Very Heavy Unbleached Twilled Cotton Crash; regular retail price 6 1/2c, 4 1/2c per yard.

25 pieces Bleached Crash; worth 8 1-3c, 6 1/2c per yard.

40 pieces Unbleached All-Linen Twilled Crash; worth 9c, 7 1/2c per yard.

50 pieces Bleached Twilled Crash; worth 10c, 7 1/2c per yard.

30 pieces All-Linen Barnsley Crash; worth 12 1/2c, 10c per yard.

18 pieces All-Linen Extra Heavy Barnsley Crash; regular price 15c, 12 1/2c per yard.

100 pieces All-Linen Unbleached Twilled Crash; worth in a regular way 16c, 12 1/2c per yard.

60 pieces All-Linen Unbleached Crash; worth 16c, 12 1/2c per yard.

Damask Pattern Cloths, With Border All Around. 2 yards x 2 yards full bleach; regular price $2.85, $2.25.

2 yards x 2 1/2 yards full bleach; regular price $3.50, $2.75.

2x3 yards full bleach; regular price $4.00, $3.25.

2 yards x 3 yards; regular price $4.75, $3.75.

2 1/2 yards x 2 1/2 yards; regular price $6.00, $4.50.

2 1/2 yards x 3 1/2 yards; regular price $7.00, $5.50.

Wagon party Friday evening to a number of his special friends. The young people made a ten-mile trip from the city to the country home of Mr. Will Heine, on the Clinton road.

The expedition was chaperoned by Rev. and Mrs. J. T. M. Johnson and Mrs. A. E. Forbes. A band of jubilee singers accompanied the picnicers. At the Heine home the groups were prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns and arranged for dancing.

Among those who participated in the fun were: Mrs. Kempin, Mrs. Teasdale and Misses—

Fanny Gayton, Mrs. Shaw, Charlotte Keimann, Lottie Knight, Leta Page, Misses—

John Teasdale, Geo. Johnson, Martin Teasdale, Herbert Gostrie, W. V. Teasdale, Robert Johnson, W. G. Hawkins, Clayton Teasdale.

Entertained the Misses Ash. Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Pointer of North St. Louis gave an informal "at home" Friday evening of last week in honor of their nieces, Misses Bessie and Adele Ash. Music and dancing entertained the young

Cream All-Linen Damask.

62-inch Heavy Cream Damask; regular price 65c, 50c.

60-inch extra heavy Dice Damask; regular price 70c, 60c.

72-inch extra heavy Dice Damask; regular price 90c, 75c.

72-inch extra heavy Cream Damask; regular price 90c, 75c.

72-inch extra heavy Cream Damask; regular price $1.25, $1.00.

70-inch Embossed Bleached Damask; in eight different designs; regular price $1.35, $1.00.

1/2 or 3/4 Napkins to match. Bleached All-Linen Damask. 64-inch full bleach Irish Damask; regular price 65c, 50c.

66-inch full bleach Irish Damask; regular price 85c, 70c.

67-inch full bleach Irish Damask; regular price $1.00, 80c.

72-inch full bleach Irish Damask; regular price $1.25, $1.00.

20-inch Napkins to match $2.50 doz. 24-inch Napkins to match $3.50 doz.

Scotch Double Damask. 72-inch Scotch Double Damask; regular price $1.50, $1.25.

72-inch extra heavy Scotch Double Damask; regular price $1.85, $1.50.

10 pieces of fine 90-inch Irish Damask; regular price $1.75, $1.50.

10 pieces of fine 90-inch Irish Damask; regular price $2.00, $1.75.

Napkins. 18-inch All-Linen German Silver Bleach Damask Napkins; regular price $1.50, $1.25.

22-inch full bleach Irish Napkins; regular price $1.50, $1.25.

22

STRIKE EFFECTS

Transfer Employees Will Aid Freight Handlers.

THEY DECIDE TO REMAIN OUT

FEW SIGNS OF STRIKE VISIBLE IN EAST ST. LOUIS.

All Is Quiet Thursday, It Being a Holiday, and Both Sides Are Awaiting the Dawn of Friday for Developments.

It was said Thursday morning in East St. Louis that the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis Railroad would attempt to move freight with imported men.

At noon Thursday no such action had been taken.

There was no active development in the situation concerning the freight handlers' strike.

It is generally believed in East St. Louis that an agreement will be reached by the railroad and the strikers Friday, and that the full forces will return to work then.

No cars are moving in the yards. The warehousemen are working but no exceptions are closed. The exceptioners are the C. & A. Big Four and C. P. & St. L.

The latter put a small force of men to work Thursday morning moving out portable merchandise that demanded immediate shipment.

The strikers offered no resistance to this proceeding.

The C. & A. and Big Four have had a few men handling freight every day since the strike was inaugurated.

Thursday being a holiday, no attempt was made by the transfer companies to do anything.

The striking truckers and sorters, who have called out with them the plain clerks, to the number of 300, and about the same number of teamsters, assert that the switchmen will strike Friday in sympathy.

This would mean the complete paralysis of freight traffic on the East Side, and is a point which the railroad managers dread.

The latter, on the other hand, declare that by Friday the trouble will all be over.

The strike of the teamsters, they say, is the most serious phase of the situation so far, and with the teamsters at work they would be able to handle all the freight offered. A strike among the switchmen, they say, is something they do not fear.

Owing to the congested condition of the freight houses and yards in East St. Louis, the railroads are rebelling goods to this side of the river. The perishable stuff is being shipped by express.

In the present contingency the roads have freight houses and yards on the East Side, and those which use the Terminal and Transfer warehouses are consigning both inbound and outbound goods direct.

Transfer Men
Will Lend Assistance.
A meeting of the teamsters was held Wednesday night, but without result, except that the men of the St. Louis Transfer Co. expressed the intention of staying out until the demands of the striking freight handlers are acceded to.

The strike of the teamsters about 200 men and has been the cause of thousands of dollars loss to business men of St. Louis, who have merchandise tied up in cars on freight houses on the East Side. It was started by the strike of the teamsters, who demanded 50 cents an hour for truckers and 10 cents for sorters.

Most of the roads have imported men to handle the freight, using clerks from the regular office and from the yards. The men who are working are being paid 50 cents an hour for truckers and 10 cents for sorters.

The only thing moving, practically, is that belonging to concerns who own or hire their own wagons.

No attempt has been made to interfere with this traffic.

United States deputy marshals guard the terminals of the Vandallia road, which is under a federal receivership, and railroad detectives have been stationed around the property of the Illinois Central, Southern Railway, Missouri Pacific, and other roads.

Major Stephens of East St. Louis has held several conferences with the railroad managers in an endeavor to effect a settlement of the strike.

On account of the strike, the discharge of cannons, guns, pistols and cannon crackers was prohibited in East St. Louis Thursday.

Signs of Strike Visible.
Except for the array of empty trucks in the yards of the St. Louis Transfer Co., East St. Louis, and the air of quiet which prevails around the big freight houses, one would scarcely know a strike was in progress.

The strikers have pursued an orderly course, and have, for the most part, remained away from the yards. It is a committee of teamsters, who had been bridge Wednesday afternoon, stopped every driver who came along, whether he wanted to work for one of the roads or for a private concern, and have refused to assist the cause of non-union labor by delivering goods to the freight houses where the strike is on.

This morning work was successful. Only one driver out of a dozen was counted, between 3 and 4 o'clock, refused the request. Most of them, however, they put up their teams after delivering the goods they had at the time.

Union men in other lines and sympathizers among the citizens of East St. Louis were not wanting to about the strike. The new converts as they turned to the new cause with the expressed determination to help the cause of the strikers in every way possible.

One marked effect of the strike has been the diminution of ferry and bridge traffic. The big ferry boats of the Wiggins Ferry Co., which seldom make a trip in ordinary times without half a dozen or more, have piled back and forth almost empty.

The double line of wagons, which makes the top of the Eads bridge a wonder to strangers, has been composed of private vehicles and improvised transfer wagons since the teamsters went out.

Frightened by Toy Snake
Young Man Thrown Into Spasms by the Thoughtless Act of Some Person at Cairo.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CAIRO, Ill., July 4.—A singular incident occurred here yesterday afternoon. Will Pennington, a young man of Mount City and son of one of the prominent citizens of that place, who came here to attend the mid-summer carnival, was walking along one of the crowded streets when a passing stranger threw a toy snake at him. Pennington was at once seized with paroxysms of fright and suffered intensely from the nervous shock. He was removed at once to the residence of Joseph Stoenhals, D. V. C. Clarke was called and administered remedies usual in such cases. All afternoon and evening the patient suffered from nervous spasms which were relieved at times by the use of a hypodermic of morphine. He was placed in a hospital and a distance of seven miles. About three years ago Stoenhals was bitten on the arm by a rattlesnake, and as a result of the bite he was paralyzed. The rattlesnake was captured and was sent to the Stoenhals family. The boy, who is now recovering, was a victim of the toy snake.

REMAINS

STRIKE EFFECTS

Thousands of Remains, Short Ends, Broken Lots, etc. You are too busy celebrating to read much of an advertisement today, but tomorrow the bargains will be awaiting you.

It was said Thursday morning in East St. Louis that the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis Railroad would attempt to move freight with imported men.

At noon Thursday no such action had been taken.

There was no active development in the situation concerning the freight handlers' strike.

It is generally believed in East St. Louis that an agreement will be reached by the railroad and the strikers Friday, and that the full forces will return to work then.

No cars are moving in the yards. The warehousemen are working but no exceptions are closed. The exceptioners are the C. & A. Big Four and C. P. & St. L.

The latter put a small force of men to work Thursday morning moving out portable merchandise that demanded immediate shipment.

The strikers offered no resistance to this proceeding.

The C. & A. and Big Four have had a few men handling freight every day since the strike was inaugurated.

Thursday being a holiday, no attempt was made by the transfer companies to do anything.

The striking truckers and sorters, who have called out with them the plain clerks, to the number of 300, and about the same number of teamsters, assert that the switchmen will strike Friday in sympathy.

This would mean the complete paralysis of freight traffic on the East Side, and is a point which the railroad managers dread.

The latter, on the other hand, declare that by Friday the trouble will all be over.

The strike of the teamsters, they say, is the most serious phase of the situation so far, and with the teamsters at work they would be able to handle all the freight offered. A strike among the switchmen, they say, is something they do not fear.

Owing to the congested condition of the freight houses and yards in East St. Louis, the railroads are rebelling goods to this side of the river. The perishable stuff is being shipped by express.

In the present contingency the roads have freight houses and yards on the East Side, and those which use the Terminal and Transfer warehouses are consigning both inbound and outbound goods direct.

Transfer Men
Will Lend Assistance.
A meeting of the teamsters was held Wednesday night, but without result, except that the men of the St. Louis Transfer Co. expressed the intention of staying out until the demands of the striking freight handlers are acceded to.

The strike of the teamsters about 200 men and has been the cause of thousands of dollars loss to business men of St. Louis, who have merchandise tied up in cars on freight houses on the East Side. It was started by the strike of the teamsters, who demanded 50 cents an hour for truckers and 10 cents for sorters.

Most of the roads have imported men to handle the freight, using clerks from the regular office and from the yards. The men who are working are being paid 50 cents an hour for truckers and 10 cents for sorters.

The only thing moving, practically, is that belonging to concerns who own or hire their own wagons.

No attempt has been made to interfere with this traffic.

United States deputy marshals guard the terminals of the Vandallia road, which is under a federal receivership, and railroad detectives have been stationed around the property of the Illinois Central, Southern Railway, Missouri Pacific, and other roads.

Major Stephens of East St. Louis has held several conferences with the railroad managers in an endeavor to effect a settlement of the strike.

On account of the strike, the discharge of cannons, guns, pistols and cannon crackers was prohibited in East St. Louis Thursday.

Signs of Strike Visible.
Except for the array of empty trucks in the yards of the St. Louis Transfer Co., East St. Louis, and the air of quiet which prevails around the big freight houses, one would scarcely know a strike was in progress.

The strikers have pursued an orderly course, and have, for the most part, remained away from the yards. It is a committee of teamsters, who had been bridge Wednesday afternoon, stopped every driver who came along, whether he wanted to work for one of the roads or for a private concern, and have refused to assist the cause of non-union labor by delivering goods to the freight houses where the strike is on.

This morning work was successful. Only one driver out of a dozen was counted, between 3 and 4 o'clock, refused the request. Most of them, however, they put up their teams after delivering the goods they had at the time.

Union men in other lines and sympathizers among the citizens of East St. Louis were not wanting to about the strike. The new converts as they turned to the new cause with the expressed determination to help the cause of the strikers in every way possible.

One marked effect of the strike has been the diminution of ferry and bridge traffic. The big ferry boats of the Wiggins Ferry Co., which seldom make a trip in ordinary times without half a dozen or more, have piled back and forth almost empty.

The double line of wagons, which makes the top of the Eads bridge a wonder to strangers, has been composed of private vehicles and improvised transfer wagons since the teamsters went out.

Frightened by Toy Snake
Young Man Thrown Into Spasms by the Thoughtless Act of Some Person at Cairo.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CAIRO, Ill., July 4.—A singular incident occurred here yesterday afternoon. Will Pennington, a young man of Mount City and son of one of the prominent citizens of that place, who came here to attend the mid-summer carnival, was walking along one of the crowded streets when a passing stranger threw a toy snake at him. Pennington was at once seized with paroxysms of fright and suffered intensely from the nervous shock. He was removed at once to the residence of Joseph Stoenhals, D. V. C. Clarke was called and administered remedies usual in such cases. All afternoon and evening the patient suffered from nervous spasms which were relieved at times by the use of a hypodermic of morphine. He was placed in a hospital and a distance of seven miles. About three years ago Stoenhals was bitten on the arm by a rattlesnake, and as a result of the bite he was paralyzed. The rattlesnake was captured and was sent to the Stoenhals family. The boy, who is now recovering, was a victim of the toy snake.

It was said Thursday morning in East St. Louis that the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis Railroad would attempt to move freight with imported men.

At noon Thursday no such action had been taken.

There was no active development in the situation concerning the freight handlers' strike.

It is generally believed in East St. Louis that an agreement will be reached by the railroad and the strikers Friday, and that the full forces will return to work then.

No cars are moving in the yards. The warehousemen are working but no exceptions are closed. The exceptioners are the C. & A. Big Four and C. P. & St. L.

The latter put a small force of men to work Thursday morning moving out portable merchandise that demanded immediate shipment.

The strikers offered no resistance to this proceeding.

The C. & A. and Big Four have had a few men handling freight every day since the strike was inaugurated.

Thursday being a holiday, no attempt was made by the transfer companies to do anything.

The striking truckers and sorters, who have called out with them the plain clerks, to the number of 300, and about the same number of teamsters, assert that the switchmen will strike Friday in sympathy.

REMAINS

STRIKE EFFECTS

Thousands of Remains, Short Ends, Broken Lots, etc. You are too busy celebrating to read much of an advertisement today, but tomorrow the bargains will be awaiting you.

It was said Thursday morning in East St. Louis that the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis Railroad would attempt to move freight with imported men.

At noon Thursday no such action had been taken.

There was no active development in the situation concerning the freight handlers' strike.

It is generally believed in East St. Louis that an agreement will be reached by the railroad and the strikers Friday, and that the full forces will return to work then.

No cars are moving in the yards. The warehousemen are working but no exceptions are closed. The exceptioners are the C. & A. Big Four and C. P. & St. L.

The latter put a small force of men to work Thursday morning moving out portable merchandise that demanded immediate shipment.

The strikers offered no resistance to this proceeding.

The C. & A. and Big Four have had a few men handling freight every day since the strike was inaugurated.

Thursday being a holiday, no attempt was made by the transfer companies to do anything.

The striking truckers and sorters, who have called out with them the plain clerks, to the number of 300, and about the same number of teamsters, assert that the switchmen will strike Friday in sympathy.

This would mean the complete paralysis of freight traffic on the East Side, and is a point which the railroad managers dread.

The latter, on the other hand, declare that by Friday the trouble will all be over.

The strike of the teamsters, they say, is the most serious phase of the situation so far, and with the teamsters at work they would be able to handle all the freight offered. A strike among the switchmen, they say, is something they do not fear.

Owing to the congested condition of the freight houses and yards in East St. Louis, the railroads are rebelling goods to this side of the river. The perishable stuff is being shipped by express.

In the present contingency the roads have freight houses and yards on the East Side, and those which use the Terminal and Transfer warehouses are consigning both inbound and outbound goods direct.

Transfer Men
Will Lend Assistance.
A meeting of the teamsters was held Wednesday night, but without result, except that the men of the St. Louis Transfer Co. expressed the intention of staying out until the demands of the striking freight handlers are acceded to.

The strike of the teamsters about 200 men and has been the cause of thousands of dollars loss to business men of St. Louis, who have merchandise tied up in cars on freight houses on the East Side. It was started by the strike of the teamsters, who demanded 50 cents an hour for truckers and 10 cents for sorters.

Most of the roads have imported men to handle the freight, using clerks from the regular office and from the yards. The men who are working are being paid 50 cents an hour for truckers and 10 cents for sorters.

The only thing moving, practically, is that belonging to concerns who own or hire their own wagons.

No attempt has been made to interfere with this traffic.

United States deputy marshals guard the terminals of the Vandallia road, which is under a federal receivership, and railroad detectives have been stationed around the property of the Illinois Central, Southern Railway, Missouri Pacific, and other roads.

Major Stephens of East St. Louis has held several conferences with the railroad managers in an endeavor to effect a settlement of the strike.

On account of the strike, the discharge of cannons, guns, pistols and cannon crackers was prohibited in East St. Louis Thursday.

Signs of Strike Visible.
Except for the array of empty trucks in the yards of the St. Louis Transfer Co., East St. Louis, and the air of quiet which prevails around the big freight houses, one would scarcely know a strike was in progress.

The strikers have pursued an orderly course, and have, for the most part, remained away from the yards. It is a committee of teamsters, who had been bridge Wednesday afternoon, stopped every driver who came along, whether he wanted to work for one of the roads or for a private concern, and have refused to assist the cause of non-union labor by delivering goods to the freight houses where the strike is on.

This morning work was successful. Only one driver out of a dozen was counted, between 3 and 4 o'clock, refused the request. Most of them, however, they put up their teams after delivering the goods they had at the time.

Union men in other lines and sympathizers among the citizens of East St. Louis were not wanting to about the strike. The new converts as they turned to the new cause with the expressed determination to help the cause of the strikers in every way possible.

One marked effect of the strike has been the diminution of ferry and bridge traffic. The big ferry boats of the Wiggins Ferry Co., which seldom make a trip in ordinary times without half a dozen or more, have piled back and forth almost empty.

The double line of wagons, which makes the top of the Eads bridge a wonder to strangers, has been composed of private vehicles and improvised transfer wagons since the teamsters went out.

Frightened by Toy Snake
Young Man Thrown Into Spasms by the Thoughtless Act of Some Person at Cairo.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CAIRO, Ill., July 4.—A singular incident occurred here yesterday afternoon. Will Pennington, a young man of Mount City and son of one of the prominent citizens of that place, who came here to attend the mid-summer carnival, was walking along one of the crowded streets when a passing stranger threw a toy snake at him. Pennington was at once seized with paroxysms of fright and suffered intensely from the nervous shock. He was removed at once to the residence of Joseph Stoenhals, D. V. C. Clarke was called and administered remedies usual in such cases. All afternoon and evening the patient suffered from nervous spasms which were relieved at times by the use of a hypodermic of morphine. He was placed in a hospital and a distance of seven miles. About three years ago Stoenhals was bitten on the arm by a rattlesnake, and as a result of the bite he was paralyzed. The rattlesnake was captured and was sent to the Stoenhals family. The boy, who is now recovering, was a victim of the toy snake.

It was said Thursday morning in East St. Louis that the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis Railroad would attempt to move freight with imported men.

At noon Thursday no such action had been taken.

There was no active development in the situation concerning the freight handlers' strike.

It is generally believed in East St. Louis that an agreement will be reached by the railroad and the strikers Friday, and that the full forces will return to work then.

No cars are moving in the yards. The warehousemen are working but no exceptions are closed. The exceptioners are the C. & A. Big Four and C. P. & St. L.

The latter put a small force of men to work Thursday morning moving out portable merchandise that demanded immediate shipment.

The strikers offered no resistance to this proceeding.

The C. & A. and Big Four have had a few men handling freight every day since the strike was inaugurated.

Thursday being a holiday, no attempt was made by the transfer companies to do anything.

The striking truckers and sorters, who have called out with them the plain clerks, to the number of 300, and about the same number of teamsters, assert that the switchmen will strike Friday in sympathy.

REMAINS

STRIKE EFFECTS

Thousands of Remains, Short Ends, Broken Lots, etc. You are too busy celebrating to read much of an advertisement today, but tomorrow the bargains will be awaiting you.

It was said Thursday morning in East St. Louis that the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis Railroad would attempt to move freight with imported men.

At noon Thursday no such action had been taken.

There was no active development in the situation concerning the freight handlers' strike.

It is generally believed in East St. Louis that an agreement will be reached by the railroad and the strikers Friday, and that the full forces will return to work then.

No cars are moving in the yards. The warehousemen are working but no exceptions are closed. The exceptioners are the C. & A. Big Four and C. P. & St. L.

The latter put a small force of men to work Thursday morning moving out portable merchandise that demanded immediate shipment.

The strikers offered no resistance to this proceeding.

The C. & A. and Big Four have had a few men handling freight every day since the strike was inaugurated.

Thursday being a holiday, no attempt was made by the transfer companies to do anything.

The striking truckers and sorters, who have called out with them the plain clerks, to the number of 300, and about the same number of teamsters, assert that the switchmen will strike Friday in sympathy.

This would mean the complete paralysis of freight traffic on the East Side, and is a point which the railroad managers dread.

The latter, on the other hand, declare that by Friday the trouble will all be over.

The strike of the teamsters, they say, is the most serious phase of the situation so far, and with the teamsters at work they would be able to handle all the freight offered. A strike among the switchmen, they say, is something they do not fear.

Owing to the congested condition of the freight houses and yards in East St. Louis, the railroads are rebelling goods to this side of the river. The perishable stuff is being shipped by express.

In the present contingency the roads have freight houses and yards on the East Side, and those which use the Terminal and Transfer warehouses are consigning both inbound and outbound goods direct.

Transfer Men
Will Lend Assistance.
A meeting of the teamsters was held Wednesday night, but without result, except that the men of the St. Louis Transfer Co. expressed the intention of staying out until the demands of the striking freight handlers are acceded to.

The strike of the teamsters about 200 men and has been the cause of thousands of dollars loss to business men of St. Louis, who have merchandise tied up in cars on freight houses on the East Side. It was started by the strike of the teamsters, who demanded 50 cents an hour for truckers and 10 cents for sorters.

Most of the roads have imported men to handle the freight, using clerks from the regular office and from the yards. The men who are working are being paid 50 cents an hour for truckers and 10 cents for sorters.

The only thing moving, practically, is that belonging to concerns who own or hire their own wagons.

No attempt has been made to interfere with this traffic.

United States deputy marshals guard the terminals of the Vandallia road, which is under a federal receivership, and railroad detectives have been stationed around the property of the Illinois Central, Southern Railway, Missouri Pacific, and other roads.

Major Stephens of East St. Louis has held several conferences with the railroad managers in an endeavor to effect a settlement of the strike.

On account of the strike, the discharge of cannons, guns, pistols and cannon crackers was prohibited in East St. Louis Thursday.

Signs of Strike Visible.
Except for the array of empty trucks in the yards of the St. Louis Transfer Co., East St. Louis, and the air of quiet which prevails around the big freight houses, one would scarcely know a strike was in progress.

The strikers have pursued an orderly course, and have, for the most part, remained away from the yards. It is a committee of teamsters, who had been bridge Wednesday afternoon, stopped every driver who came along, whether he wanted to work for one of the roads or for a private concern, and have refused to assist the cause of non-union labor by delivering goods to the freight houses where the strike is on.

This morning work was successful. Only one driver out of a dozen was counted, between 3 and 4 o'clock, refused the request. Most of them, however, they put up their teams after delivering the goods they had at the time.

Union men in other lines and sympathizers among the citizens of East St. Louis were not wanting to about the strike. The new converts as they turned to the new cause with the expressed determination to help the cause of the strikers in every way possible.

One marked effect of the strike has been the diminution of ferry and bridge traffic. The big ferry boats of the Wiggins Ferry Co., which seldom make a trip in ordinary times without half a dozen or more, have piled back and forth almost empty.

The double line of wagons, which makes the top of the Eads bridge a wonder to strangers, has been composed of private vehicles and improvised transfer wagons since the teamsters went out.

Frightened by Toy Snake
Young Man Thrown Into Spasms by the Thoughtless Act of Some Person at Cairo.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CAIRO, Ill., July 4.—A singular incident occurred here yesterday afternoon. Will Pennington, a young man of Mount City and son of one of the prominent citizens of that place, who came here to attend the mid-summer carnival, was walking along one of the crowded streets when a passing stranger threw a toy snake at him. Pennington was at once seized with paroxysms of fright and suffered intensely from the nervous shock. He was removed at once to the residence of Joseph Stoenhals, D. V. C. Clarke was called and administered remedies usual in such cases. All afternoon and evening the patient suffered from nervous spasms which were relieved at times by the use of a hypodermic of morphine. He was placed in a hospital and a distance of seven miles. About three years ago Stoenhals was bitten on the arm by a rattlesnake, and as a result of the bite he was paralyzed. The rattlesnake was captured and was sent to the Stoenhals family. The boy, who is now recovering, was a victim of the toy snake.

It was said Thursday morning in East St. Louis that the Chicago, Peoria & St. Louis Railroad would attempt to move freight with imported men.

At noon Thursday no such action had been taken.

There was no active development in the situation concerning the freight handlers' strike.

It is generally believed in East St. Louis that an agreement will be reached by the railroad and the strikers Friday, and that the full forces will return to work then.

No cars are moving in the yards. The warehousemen are working but no exceptions are closed. The exceptioners are the C. & A. Big Four and C. P. & St. L.

The latter put a small force of men to work Thursday morning moving out portable merchandise that demanded immediate shipment.

The strikers offered no resistance to this proceeding.

The C. & A. and Big Four have had a few men handling freight every day since the strike was inaugurated.

Thursday being a holiday, no attempt was made by the transfer companies to do anything.</

(Copyright 1901 by the Pulitzer Publishing Co.)

